CHICAGO GANG WAR
BEGINS ANEW WITH
ATTACK IN STREET

Machine Guns Used in Battle Which Takes
Pair of Lives

CHIEF EXPECTS
MORE DEATHS

Forty-Six Victims Of Gang Warfare
This Year

CHICAGO, Oct. 12.—(AP)— Chicago's deadliest battle, a war to extermination has opened between two bands of booze racketeers for control of the city liquor traffic.

That fearful engine of war, the death dealing machine gun, was the sinister weapon employed by gangsters, who moved down five men in the shadow of Chicago's great Catholic Cathedral of the Holy Name on North State street
late yesterday.

The murderous attack, more daring than the assassination of Assistant State's Attorney McSwiggin, was expected to bring reprisals and counter reprisals—the eternal vicious circle that all such feuds go through.

The victims in the newest and most deadly of ganglands own method of eliminating its enemies were: "Earl" "Wymie" Weiss, notorious gangster and gunman,
who at 28, has risen to overlordship of a powerful city-wide combine of booze runners and Paddy
Murray, a lieutenant.

Both were killed almost instantly, their bodies riddled by slugs as machine guns, spitting their deadly messages of death from a rooming house window, and an automobile, raked them with a withering cross fire of lead.

The wounded are: William W.
O'Bryan, former assistant state's attorney, prominent criminal lawyer and counsel for "Big Joe" Sal-tis, ally of Weiss, now on trial for murder; Ben Jacobs, an investigator for O'Bryan, and Sam Peller, henchman and bodyguard of Weiss.

All forces of the city were loosed today in a hunt for the slayers, whose bullets brought the gang toll to 46 here this year. The police said they had information that rival gangs had obtained 18 machine guns recently.

"We knew" was coming sooner or later," Chief of Police Collins said, "and it isn't over. I don't want to encourage the business, but if somebody has to be killed, it's a good thing that gangsters are murdering themselves off. It saves trouble for the police."

Huntsville Asks
Davenport Back

The official boards and the congregation of the First Methodist church of Huntsville will ask the north Alabama conference to return Dr. George M. Davenport as pastor of that church for another term. Resolutions already have been adopted and will be forwarded to conference.

The custom has prevailed for a long time in conference circles to place a limit of four years upon the time of service permitted an pastor in one church. More recently, however, a disposition has been shown to change this custom where especially strong petition was made by a congregation for return of a minister.

The Huntsville churches hopes to persuade the conference officials to make an exception in the case of Dr. Davenport who formerly was pastor of the First Methodist church here and who has many friends in the Twin Cities.

Husband And Wife, 'Clasped' In Each Other's Arms, Found Today
In Their 'Parked' Automobile

CANTON, Ga., Oct. 12.—(AP)—Clasped to each other's arms, the bodies of John N. King, Sr., of Tate, Ga., and his wife, were found early today in an automobile pulled up to the side of the road in the edge of Holly Springs, near here. Both had been shot through the head and apparently had been dead for several hours.

It was reported the car had been seen parked there at midnight.
Several notes to relatives and one addressed "to the public" explained that Mr. King had been in ill health, had suffered financial reverses and did not wish to leave his wife without his care and protection.

A revolver of small caliber was found in the automobile and the authorities said that indications were that Mr. King had shot his wife and then turned the weapon on himself.
Belief that Mrs. King may have entered into a suicide pact was strengthened by the fact that one of the notes was written ten days ago.

BUMPER YIELDS ARE EXPECTED
IN ALL THE FARMING CLASSES

Continued prospects of yields from the principal food and feed crops of Alabama featured the report showing conditions of the crops in the state on October 1, which was released today by F.
N. Gist, agricultural statistician, cooperating with Alabama Extension Service, and the State Department of Agriculture.

Corn still gives promise of a higher yield than has been realized in many years, with indications pointing to 16 bushels per acre.
The production for the state on this basis would be 43,856,000 or 7,096,000 bushels more than we produced last year on a slightly larger acreage.

The hay crop is also much larger than last year, with a probable acre-yield of 1,700 pounds, and a total production this year of 549-300 tons. This compares with 422,000 tons in 1925.

The ideal growing season for sweet potatoes is reflected by the good yield of 95 bushels per acre, against 70 last year. The production indicated for this year is 3,175,000 bushels and since the acreage for the two years was the same, we have grown considerable more potatoes in the state than we did in 1925.

On account of the reduction in the peanut acreage intended for commercial harvest, the crop this year will be a little less than last.
The prospective acre-yield is slightly under 24 bushels, and the Federal Court Jury

Returns Verdict
For $137,157

A verdict for $137,157.50 was returned by a jury in federal court at Huntsville in favor of Hightower and Garth in their suit against the Home Insurance company, of New York. This sum is in addition to the $100,000, already paid by the company, as result of the fire which destroyed the Garth-Hightower warehouse in Athens and a number of bales of cotton. The plaintiffs contended approximately 2600 bales of cotton were destroyed in the lames.

The first $100,000 was paid soon after the fire, but the insurance company then alleged an investigation indicated that much of the cotton had been shipped out of the warehouse following sale. The owners replied that fully 2,600 bales of cotton were in the warehouse, but that some of their records had been burned in the fire.
The plaintiff was represented by W. W. Callahan and A. J. Harris of Decatur, J. C. Rankin of Athens and R. E. Smith of Huntsville. The defendants were represented by: Judge C. M. Smithdeal,

Douglas Taylor of Huntsville and Fred Wall of Athens.

RURAL HOME IS
TRAGEDY SCENE

Gruesome Discovery
Made By Relative
Early Monday

BARRE, Vt., Oct. 12.—(AP)—
Mr. and Mrs. P. Russell Morrison and their daughter, Joyce, aged six years, were shot dead in their home, four miles from this city, probably Sunday night. Their bodies were found in their locked home this morning.

The authorities think that Morrison, becoming suddenly insane, shot his wife and child and then killed himself.

The triple shooting was discovered this morning when Mrs. John Hood, mother of Mrs. Morrison, went to the house to make a visit.
All the victims had been shot through the head.

The police said that Morrison had been somewhat despondent over his health since an attack of infantile paralysis two years ago.
The girl did not attend school yesterday and no one had seen her heard from the family since Sunday night. These facts led the officers to believe that the triple killing occurred either Sunday night or Monday morning.

The fact that the tragedy was not discovered until this morning was due, in part, to the secluded location of the Morrison home.

Fifteen Cases Are Disposed Monday

Fifteen cases were disposed of Monday in the first day session of the Morgan county court, before Judge W. T. Lowe. The non-jury docket of that court has been set.
Court was adjourned Tuesday, but will be taken up again Wednesday morning at nine o'clock with a few cases set to be heard. It is anticipated that the docket will be completed on Wednesday.

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Oct. 12.—
(AP)—High points in the session at the capitol today of the regional agricultural conference of the United States chamber of commerce was reached today when F.
W. Gist, state agricultural statistician, introduced a resolution, embodying an interesting plan for the solution of the cotton price crisis.

The resolution points out that the present low price of cotton will result in an aggregate value about $540,000,000 less than that of 1925, which not only will seriously affect the prosperity of the cotton producing states, but will bring the financial status of the cotton grower to a dangerously low ebb.

He expressed the opinion that this situation is unquestionably the direct result of over-production and declares the only remedy lies in withholding from the present market a sufficient volume of this crop to make the offering commensurate with the demand and with lowering the production of next year to a sufficient degree to bring the production of 1927 plus the surplus from 1926 in line with the demand.

Mr. Gist's resolution makes the following recommendations:
That 4,000,000 bales of cotton be withdrawn from the world market at once.

That full use shall be made of existing cooperative associations, with their regularly established system or orderly marketing, and managers of such associations shall reserve the right to withhold a proper proportion of the cotton already entrusted to them on the contracts, which holdings shall take the course suggested below.

The farm bureau cotton association of the various cotton producing states immediately set up a long time pool, from which no cotton shall be sold for six months, or for as much longer as is required to meet the situation with an adequate unit price. Farmers shall place such cotton as they are obliged to turn in to cash in this pool, receiving thereon an advance of 65 per cent of the present value.
The money with which to finance such a pool shall be obtained from the immediate credit banks to the limit of its resources on such terms as can be obtained therefor. If any lack of resources for this purpose should appear, local banks shall, at reasonable rates and upon equivalent terms, finance the remainder of such volume of cotton for the same necessary period.

As a condition precedent for such financing, both by cotton association and local banks, the owners of such cotton shall agree in writing that they will reduce the acreage to be planted to cotton in 1927 to such an extent as shall be required by the association or bank financing the holding.

Banks and merchants furnishing credit for producing cotton in 1927 shall require their customer to reduce the acreage to be planted to cotton in such amount as will result in an aggregate reduction of at least 11,000,000 acres in the

SOME COTTON IS ABANDONED SOUTHRecent Storm Blew Down Much of the Staple, Shown

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Oct. 12.—
(AP)—In many fields in the southern part of Alabama where the recent storm blew cotton from the plants, the cotton is being gathered, but other fields are being abandoned, according to the summary of weather and crop conditions in the state during the past week. The report state that the effort is being made to salvage part of the pecan crop in the coast region by artificial curing. The report follows:

Temperatures for the week were uniformly much above normal,
with weekly maxima at reporting stations ranging between 87 degrees and 96 degrees in the northern portion, and 74 degrees in the coast region. Except for light to moderate showers at a few widely scattered places, the week was fair, with considerably more sunshine than during the week preceding. Weather conditions were generally favorable for farm work and growing crops.

"Cotton generally made good progress. In some southern sections corn is being pulled to save what was blown down. Truck crops and pastures are doing well in the southern portion, but they are not doing so well, as a rule, in the northern portion on account of the weather being too dry. Minor crops are generally growing nicely and are mostly in fair to good condition. In the coast section most of the sugar cane was blown down by the recent storm.
The week was most favorable for saving hay.

"Efforts are being made in the coast region to salvage by artificial curing part of the pecan crop blown from the trees. The damage to the Satsuma orange crop was not as heavy as was first reported."

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Oct. 12.— (AP)—Representatives of cotton growing states were assembling here today for a conference tomorrow, which will attempt to determine methods of marketing the present cotton crop and finance the 1927 planting.

Delegations of bankers, planters, business men and educators will attend the conference, which was called by Governor H. L. Whitfield, of Mississippi.

At a conference yesterday at Ocala, Ark., representatives of the cotton growing industry moved to meet the low price emergency by legislative enactment, requiring a 50 per cent reduction in acreage for 1927. The general assenbly of Arkansas was called on to enact a law guaranteeing a 50 per cent reduction in acreage for 1927.
The general assembly of Arkansas was called on to enact a law guaranteeing a 50 per cent cut in the next year's crop.

Federal reserve bank officials in New Orleans yesterday stated that sufficient money is available to finance cotton growers if a plan can be worked out, whereby the banker will be assured of a reduction in next year's crop.

Recently 20 more men were put the workers have been divided into two shifts. The night scenes about the bridge are ones of activity, large electric lights being used to make the scenes bright.

Heavy blasting has been resort-

the river. The charges of explo-

MEMPHIS BANK ROBBED BY TRIO

Three Masked Men In Daring Daylight Burglary

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Oct. 12. — (AP)—Three masked bandits held up the East Memphis Bank and Trust company at Madison avenue and Claybrook street shortly before noon Monday, beating J. B. Newlin, manager, on the head and escaping with $4,000 in currency taken from the safe.

Two of the men held the cashier, a clerk and a young woman customer at bay, while the third rifled the safe.

Dumping the money into a bag, they jumped into an automobile and fled. Ten minutes before the hold-up $5,000 in currency had been sent from the bank to another bank in Memphis.

cotton states. Each such credit agency shall exercise its discretion in fixing the amount of each individual reduction, getting proper consideration to an economic distribution of crop acreage. No farmer shall be permitted to allow his cotton acreage to constitute more than 40 per cent of his aggregate crop acreage. Plantation owners may be dealt with as a unit and the entire acreage of the plantation be taken as a basis for the distribution suggested above and no cotton growers shall be given credit unless he shall plant sufficient acreage to feed crops to insure a supply for his own needs and that of his plantation for the succeeding year.

In order to enforce the plan suggested, associations, banks and merchants shall, before the 1927 crop is planted, extend only so much credit to each individual as is necessary to plant the crop; and shall reserve the right to inspect the acreage planted on each farm before extending the remainder of the total credit for the year. Credit agencies holding the surplus from the 1926 crop shall reserve the right to close out such holdings at any time and at any price in event a sufficient reduction of acreage shall not have been accomplished next spring.

Old Educator Is Called To Reward

MONTGOMERY, Oct. 12. — (AP)—James J. Langham, 91, one of the oldest educators in Alabama, died at a local hospital Tuesday morning.

Mr. Langham, who has probably taught more of Alabama's youths than any other, was a teacher in Montgomery and southeast Alabama for 60 years. Prof. Langham came to Montgomery in 1860 and practiced law for two years, 1866-67 in partnership with the late Samuel Harris who was subsequently Bishop of Michigan in the Episcopal church. He returned to teaching and was for several years head of the public schools of this city.

He was professor at the old academy, located at Montgomery and Moulton streets, and the Franklin Academy located on the spot where Chilton school on Sayre street now stands. He taught at the latter school from 1861 to 1865.

Later he went to Coffee county and taught there and in other southeast Alabama counties until he was 90 years old. For the past year he has lived with his son, E. E. Langham, at his home 31 Winthrop court.

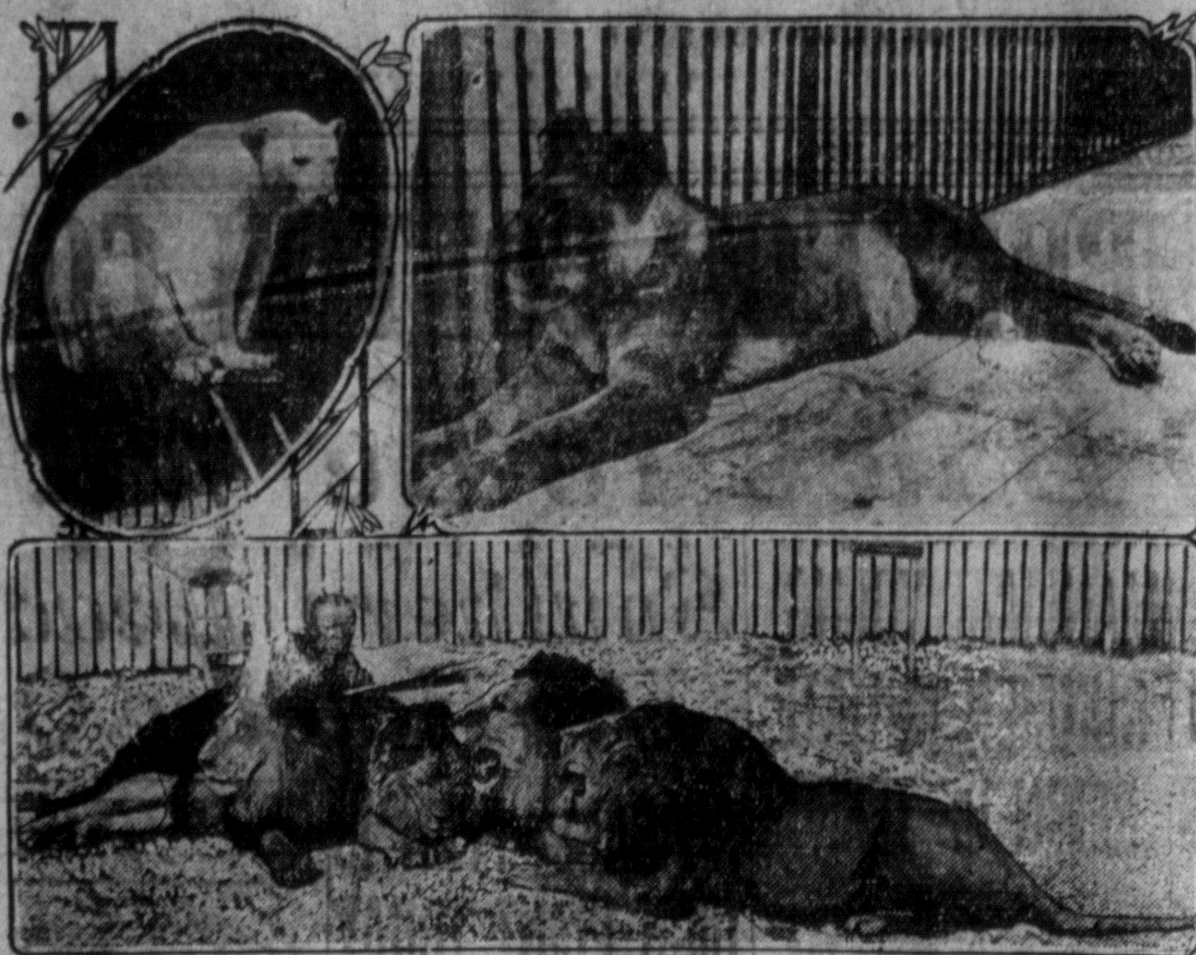

Prof. Langham was the originator of and first secretary for what is now the Alabama Educational association. He represented Coffee county as representative in the state Legislature several years ago.

He was born on September 14, 1835, near Augusta, Ga. He was a graduate of Mercer university in the library course. Later he taught schools in that state. When the War Between the States broke out, his services were offered to the Confederate army but were rejected because of partial deafness.

Prof. Langham is survived by one brother, Henry Langham, of Camak, Ga., one son, E. E. Langham, of Montgomery; six grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

CARL HAGENBECK-GREAT WALLACE CIRCUS

For many a year the name "Hagenbeck" has ranked first relative to trained wild animals. In America, as in Europe, "Hagenbeck" has stood for the superlative in the subjugation of jungle brutes. This fact is well known among the circus lovers and they know that Hagenbeck is always a bit in advance of other animal men.

It won't be many days before the Carl Hagenbeck-Great Wallace Circus comes here for two exhibitions, as Circus Day is scheduled for Albany-Decatur, Saturday, Oct. 16th. And patrons will see the greatest array of animal acts ever presented as during the winter months the trainers have worked overtime perfecting the new displays.

Two of the outstanding subjugators with the Hagenbeck-Wallace Circus are Clyde Beatty, the youthful American, and Robert McPherson, the experienced Scotchman. Beatty will handle the largest mixed group to ever appear in an arena, while McPherson will display his skill in handling ferocious Royal Bengal tigers.

Embalmed Body of Slain Husband To Be a Witness At Trial of Wife

By International News Service
TULSA, Okla. — The embalmed body of a murdered man will be taken into the courtroom as a silent witness in a trial to take place here within a few weeks, provided legal action by the defense does not restrain County Attorney Byron Kirkpatrick from carrying out his strange plan.

"There is too great a tendency on the part of a jury in a murder trial to overlook the fact that someone has been killed," declares the county attorney in explanation of his idea. "Any reference to the dead man is met with prompt objection by the defense counsel on the ground it is prejudicial."

"This time I am going to produce the dead man himself. It will establish beyond doubt that the man is dead, a contention that the state, somehow, often finds difficult in getting to the jury."

Impeachment Is Not To Follow

MONTGOMERY, Oct. 12. — (AP)—Motion for issuance by the state supreme court of Alabama of an order directing the attorney general to bring impeachment proceedings against Judge Lewis H. Reynolds of Chilton county, was overruled in a decision rendered by the supreme court Tuesday afternoon. The Chilton jurist was exonerated of fake voting list charges within 24 hours after the criminal annals of the state, probably will center about the competency, of such evidence. An effort by the defense to force burial before the trial also will be made, it is understood.

The defendant will be a wealthy negro woman, who is charged with killing her husband after a quarrel.

OVERHEAD IN SCHOOLS

This is the first of a series of articles on overhead cost in the schools by R. W. Cowart, Secretary of the Alabama Education Association.

"Since a good deal of discussion is precipitated when the subject of overhead costs in the schools is mentioned, probably some facts regarding it would be interesting at this time," said R. W. Cowart, Secretary of the Alabama Education Association. "The total cost for overhead in elementary and high schools is approximately $522,000 per year. This includes the salaries of sixty-seven county superintendents, forty-two city superintendents, and seven assistant superintendents, the expenses of county boards of education incident to their meetings and five dollars per day for each board member for not exceeding twelve days. It also includes the salaries of all stenographic, clerical, and janitorial help in the offices of the superintendents, office rents, supplies attendance officers' salaries and expenses cost of the census and the like.

"A little over four per cent of all money spent for the current operation cost of the schools is spent for overhead. When the cost of buildings and equipment is included, which take a good portion of the superintendent's time, this percentage of funds going to overhead is reduced to 3.6 per cent. The percentage of school funds spent for overhead in Alabama compares very favorably with that in other states.

Continuing, Mr. Cowart said, "While there are some who would say that our overhead cost is too much, it would hardly be possible to get the work done for less money. The percentage of the total funds devoted to overhead may appear high, but the actual compensation paid to individuals doing the administrative work is low, compared with the salaries of executives in other fields. It might be well to consider the fact that Alabama could double her educational expenditure without increasing overhead costs to any appreciable degree. The same officers could administer a nine months' school program with little additional expense in general control costs. It is not that overhead is too high; it is that the amount spent for schools is too low.

"If we could abolish all overhead expense in elementary and high schools, the funds so released would buy only six days more schooling each year. There would be a service lost to the schools, however, that would prove a greater loss than the gain of six days schooling.

TODAY 12 Years Ago

From The Daily of October 12, 1914.

Humphrey Read, representative of a company proposing an interurban electric line in North Alabama, was here today.

Robert, the little son of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Chandler, has been ill several days.

Marriage licenses—Alfred H. Eason, New Decatur, to Miss Mary Ethel Bell, Decatur.

Atlee Hoff, E. M. Odom, E. E. Graves and F. A. Bloodworth left this morning on a motor trip to Athens, Rogersville and Florence.

Mrs. Robert Banks will entertain the Pricilla club Tuesday afternoon.

Some states have storms, some floods, others suffer low cotton prices, but the good always offsets the bad, that's why the fall months here look so good.

Good attendance at church means prosperity prevails, people wouldn't go to church unless they could dress well and feel on an equal with other people.

It will not be many more days until the man of the house, paying his coal bill, will long for the time when the radio experts will be broadcasting heat.

The weather damage to cotton is estimated at $25,000,000. Will someone kindly inform us from some source the remainder of the damage approaches.

One player was hurt in the fray, several spectators were injured when a section of the stands collapsed at Dothan, but Dothan won the game, so everything was "hotsy totsy."

"Don't be a drone. Regardless of your past success personally or publicly, if you do not do your share in the present campaign, how do you classify yourself?"

The Daily respectfully suggests that Messrs. Broyles and Wilkinson tie themselves "down in Russell county" for their next fistie engagement. Following an exchange of blows recently in court, Judge Snyder sentenced each to jail for contempt of court.

Pity Rogers Hornsby. After receiving the adulation of the baseball world, he leaves for Texas on the saddest possible mission... the burial of his mother. That is one cross, the carrying of which cannot be made easier for him by any of the thousands who would help, if they could.

Secretary Wilbur, it is said, has aroused the ire of the enlisted men at the Norfolk naval base by his last-minute refusal to permit a boxing carnival there. It must be a difficult task to get along both with the commissioned and the non-commissioned personnel of the navy at one and the same time.

If there is honor among thieves, Ed Howe has not discovered that fact. Uncle Ed, in the current issue of his Monthly, says: "A rogue is nearly always a dead beat; most rogues begin their careers by buying on credit with no intention of paying.... And how the number of dead beats is increasing! Legitimate business is in despair because of them."

COMMANDER OF GERMAN REICHSWEHR RESIGNS AS RESULT OF INCIDENT.

Those who feared that the election of General Von Hindenburg as president of Germany would be only the opening wedge in the movement for return to power of the Hohenzollerns, apparently were unduly alarmed.

President Hindenburg has accepted the resignation of Major General Von Seeckt as commander-in-chief of the Reichwehr as result of the incident over the ex-Crown Prince's son, who was permitted to participate in military maneuvers in violation of the service regulations and the Versailles treaty.

The Associated Press says: "It is known that the President was reluctant to part with the services of his old war comrade over such a comparatively trivial incident. The general's downfall is attributed to his endeavor to oblige the ex-Crown Princess Cecile, ex-Prince Wilhelm's mother. Evidently, full realization of the consequences, he granted her wish to have her son participate in the maneuvers, but the Potsdam Reichwehr commander went further than was anticipated and placed the ex-prince in command of a company of Reichwehr troops.

"The incident might have blown over if the situation had not been complicated by a denial from the Potsdam commander that the ex-prince had temporarily served with the Reichwehr. This did not satisfy the Liberals and Radicals and intensified their demands for the investigation which led to the exposure of Von Seeckt's initiative in the affair and the Defense Minister, Dr. Gessler's decision that he must go."

Evidently there remain a good many people in Germany who have no desire to see the nation again embroiled in difficulties with neighbor countries as a result of the desire for power of the former royal family. The former commander-in-chief may have served ably, but his doom was sealed when he favored the former prince in violation of the German government's treaty agreements.

WINDSHIELD STICKER CRAZE HITS WEST. LET US HOPE IT STAYS THERE.

In some of the western states, motorists, with the usual American enthusiasm for fads, have taken up the fashion of windshield stickers for their cars. The National Park Service may have started, unintentionally, the "craze" which rapidly is becoming a habit.

The Park Service officials thought it would be a splendid idea to place a small, inconspicuous, sticker on the windshields of automobiles visiting the national parks. The movement was not more than well launched, however, until garages, filling stations, cities, and no end of private and public agencies were imitating the plan. The result has been that automobiles in some states can travel four or five miles and accumulate stickers which, in point of quantity, would indicate a trip around the world.

The Christian Science Monitor, commenting on the fad, says:

"And it becomes evident that there can be too many stickers on a windshield. For the safety of the public it is necessary that the driver of an automobile shall be able to see plainly where he is going; and in proportion as his enthusiasm for stickers reduces his ability to see other travellers on the road it becomes a menace to the inalienable right of such other travellers at least to be seen before being run over. In the east there are already signs of receptivity when the sticker craze crosses the mountains, but the decorative effects are so far considerably confined to the back of the car."

With traffic tolls reaching the total of 48 deaths in one week in the Southern states, it is to be hoped that Southern motorists will adopt no fashion which might serve to lessen their ability to prevent accidents. Let the stickers stick in the west.

SENATOR BORAH HITS HARD BLOW AT ALLEGED CORRUPTION IN SOUTH.

Senator Borah, of Idaho, has become very much exercised over recent disclosures of political corruption in various sections. The fact that Senator Borah is generally supposed to have aspirations to occupy the position now held by Calvin Coolidge, may or may not have anything to do with the Senator's zeal for purity in politics.

A dispatch to The Daily Monday quoted Mr. Adams, Indiana publisher, as declaring he had been requested by the Idaho senator to furnish him with information regarding alleged corruption in that state.

One of the most interesting addresses delivered lately by the rampant westerner, however, has to do with conditions in the South, with particular emphasis on conditions existing in the republican party in the South. One gains the impression from reading the printed excerpts from the address that these conditions can hardly be described as satisfactory to the speaker.

Press dispatches quote Senator Borah as declaring:

The Republican organization of the South is held together and sustained by the worst kind of corruption. I was in the South a few days ago and learned first-hand of an incident which illustrates what I mean. A young man was postmaster. He desired reappointment. He had made a good official. The patrons were thoroughly satisfied with him. The political boss, the national committeeman, stated to him, however, that his reappointment would cost him $1000. He could not pay it. Another gentleman was recommended. That is general practice in the South.

Whenever there is a real contest in the national convention for the nomination of the presidency the delegates from the South are sought to be controlled and managed by shameful use of patronage and money. We have political brokers in patronage who are experts in the game. When a presidential campaign is on these political brokers carry their wares to the market. That is corruption at the very source of power.

It is poisoning the stream at the very well-springs of national influence. The Republican party owes to itself to clean out that Augean stable. It is a difficult task but the Republican party is big enough and strong enough to do the work.

It is all right to expose the use of money in the primary. One virtue which the primary has is that it does enable us to expose the use of money more successfully than in conventions. But that is only one phase of the evil. We should also deal with this shameful traffic in public positions which goes on under the very eyes of those in power. United States district attorneys, marshals, postmasterships, should be taken off the market. Let us hope that we will throttle the practice which not only has its say in elections but also its influence and effect throughout the field of legislation and the whole fabric of government.

Inasmuch as Senator Borah is a member of the party he attacks, democrats may be inclined to feel they have nothing to do with the argument. However the gravity of the charges, coming from a source of such leadership as Senator Borah undoubtedly possesses, should prevent them being dismissed so lightly.

The members of the republican party in the South owe it to themselves and to their fellow-citizens to disabuse Senator Borah's mind of these misconceptions, if they are misconceptions. The charges are a reflection upon the whole South and the Daily cannot believe that the situation is so bad as the Senator indicates.

OVER a period of 500,000 years men have been improving by knowing that the lady in the cave with them, would stab them or crush their skulls if they abused the children.

Before Juliette Tutu succeeded in killing her husband, he had knocked her down, broken one of her arms, and inflicted wounds from which she was bleeding freely.

MEN want to know how high up they really can go, and don't want busybodies fastening a ball and chain to their legs as they climb. This country, at least, should know enough to encourage everything new and big. Later, if we don't like what we have done, we can tear it down. We spend much time tearing down, a sure sign of progress.

SOME TIME AGO, three negroes were convicted of murdering a sheriff in South Carolina. The supreme court of the state granted a new trial. Friday South Carolina citizens broke into the jail, took the two accused men and the woman into a woods, and shot them to death.

LEAVING aside the question of brutality, on this particular occasion, the mob lynched not only three negroes, one a woman, but also lynched a decision of its own supreme court, made up of white men. Not much of a tribute to that court?

JUDGE GARY, eighty years old, was at work late in the afternoon making up for time lost in greeting friends. Some "big banking interests," it is said, would like another man, already selected, in Judge Gary's place. Stockholders of United States Steel might like to be heard on that point.

JUDGE GARY took hold of the steel company when its stock, both common and preferred, was pure air, and the bonds sold to the public were water. Andrew Carnegie, who sold the concern, wouldn't take these bonds at a gift.

THE preferred stock closed Friday night at 127 1/2, the common stock at 146 7/8. The company has $400,000,000 cash on hand, absolutely unlimited iron and coal reserves, here and abroad, and can sell steel, at a profit, for less than any competitor can make it.

To any banker suggesting to Judge Gary that he retire under such conditions, the Judge would be justified in giving the modern American reply, "so is your old man."

MODERN LIFE STRESS LOWERS VITALITY

Late Hours, Fatigue and Worry All Attack and Weaken the Engine Upon Which Human Efficiency Relies—Luxuries No Help.

By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.

United States Senator from New York.
Former Commissioner of Health, New York City.

NOT long ago I had a letter from a public health statistician in the West, asking the number of deaths from diseases of the heart in the United States for the past ten years.

There has been a steady increase in the number of deaths from this cause. In 1915 there were a hundred and eleven thousand deaths in the United States. In 1924 there were a hundred and seventy-seven thousand deaths from heart diseases. The increase in deaths in ten years has been about seventy per cent. During the same period the increase in population has been about thirty per cent.

I am aware that in the language of statistics cancer has increased materially in the past ten or fifteen years. I have never been greatly disturbed over these figures because I realize that the means of diagnosing cancer have increased and improved yearly. In other words, we recognize as cancer now malignant conditions which were overlooked in former times.

This is not the case in heart disease. The profession has been well-informed regarding the ailments of the heart and blood vessels through a long period of time. The recognition of these diseases was accurate years ago. It is my belief that there has been a tremendous increase in diseases of the heart and blood vessels.

In seeking the causes of heart disease we have but to study the tendencies of modern times. Our manner of living makes for stress and strain. Late hours, worry, fatigue, the competitions of modern life, the hurly-burly of the city, hurrying to catch street cars and suburban trains—all these things make calls upon the heart which that organ is unable to resist.

The demands for rapid transportation have caused man to abandon his seat or the back of a horse. Now he lies on the seat of an automobile, permitting his heart muscle to be replaced by fat. A heart of this type cannot resist pressure as did the hearts of our ancestors.

The soft-muscled, soft-hearted product of modern living takes possession of the wheel of the automobile. He develops a speed mania with the excitement and tension incident to it. The heart goes bad in such a case because it has not been trained to endure the physical demands of such an experience.

Twenty Negroes Are Taken To Safety In Texarkana

L. C. Hightower Begins Limestone Drive With $25,000

TEXARKANA, Ark., Oct. 12.—(AP)—Cloudy skies threatened to continue the downpour, which Saturday night and Sunday morning gave Texarkana its heaviest rain in 40 years, and caused heavy damage to property and loss of live stock.

Firemen are preparing to meet any emergencies in case there is a renewal of the grueling rain which, between 7:00 p. m. Saturday and 7 a. m. Sunday totalled 9.25 inches in the city.

In the lower sections of town, residents are removing furniture and merchandise from their homes and stores. No lives were lost in the flood, which damaged a considerable amount of furniture and merchandise and drowned a number of head of cattle and hogs.

Twenty negroes were carried to safety when the rainfall made a lake of the negro section of the city. In some places the water reached a height of seven feet, making it impossible for residents to leave their front doors.

At Sherman, citizens today were retrieving property washed away when more than six inches of rain fell Saturday night, swelling branches of Post Oak creek, which formed in four directions around the city into streams half a mile wide at several points.

E. W. Haynie Jr., was drowned Saturday night when his automobile was washed from the road.

SICK HEADACHE

No Pleasure, Says Ohio Lady, to Go Places, Till She Took Black-Draught Which Brought Relief.

Langsville, Ohio.—"For years and years I suffered with severe headache," says Mrs. Jane Campbell, of this place. "It wasn't any pleasure for me to go places, for I came home with sick headache. If I went to church or to any social gathering or to town to shop, when I got back I would have these headaches and have to go to bed for a day or more, till I would just get out of heart and would not try to go."

"About 15 years ago I discovered that Black-Draught was good for these headaches. I began using it. I would take it two or three nights in succession if I felt the least bad, and it sure did wonders for me. It is about 14 years since I had sick headaches, and I can go places and really enjoy life. It surely is splendid."

Headache often is a symptom of constipation. The best relief is secured by treating the cause of the trouble and in such a case many people have been greatly helped by the use of Theodor's Black-Draught.

Purely vegetable. Recommended for young and old. No harmful after-effects. Sold everywhere.

Kissing Justice Smacks 10,000 And Thinks Zest Is Given The Ceremony

By International News Service

CLEVELAND, O.—Kissing may be unhygienic but before eschewing this delectable exercise altogether one should gaze analytically upon the record of Justice William Zou who today kissed his 10,000th woman here—legitimately—and lives to tell the tale.

The justice set a new record this week when his records showed that he had amalgamated 70,000 souls in wedlock. It naturally follows that the official has developed more than a medium of technique in kissing during these 35,000 ordeals.

But by kissing only 10,000 out of 35,000 demure or otherwise brides who have faced him one wonders whether the justice was of a discriminating nature or just bashful in exercising the parson's prerogative.

Zou explains this satisfactorily by declaring that he can kiss 'em or he can leave 'em disappointed.

"Kissing is not a part of the ritual but it certainly adds zest to the ceremony," is his philosophy.

"I never embrace 'em unless they look like they wanted it; ask for it or the groom invites me to function. Modesty forbids me admitting the thoroughness with which this is accomplished."

"Yep, I have kissed 10,000 of 'em and if it is dangerous to the health then my anatomy must have built up a pretty stiff resistance. I never have had a sick day. Any man who lets the possibility of disease prevent him from kissing a pretty woman isn't much of a man."

Half an hour later, when Sherwood stood guard over the bags on the quay, watching the launch return to the yacht for Tony and Chrissie who were saying "Good-bye" to the Captain, the other officers and the crew, he was affected suddenly by a queer hunch to turn round, and obeying it, caught the man in the pith helmet deliberately examining the luggage label that was attached to one of Tony's kit bags.

High in the treetops whistling
A merry, merry song,
The meadow-lark at sunrise

At twilight shadows deepen,
The sun sets in the west;
The meadow-lark is whistling
Goodnight, 'tis time to rest.

Withdraw Request For Extra Session

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Oct. 12.—(AP)—The only request for an extra-session of the Alabama state legislature has been withdrawn. The communication sent to Gov. Brandon by Gen. Wm. Sibert, head of the Mobile docks commission has been withdrawn. This information was received from those in close touch with the governor.

It was rumored sometime ago among close friends of Gov. Brandon that an extra session would likely be called before the present administration went out of office.

Bright Breezy Up-to-the-Minute SPORTS

THE TIGER IS ALL JAKE!

Pair Of Games To Enliven Week-End; Hartselle-Moulton Invasion Feared

The football battles will go far toward enlivening things over the weekend in the Twin Cities. Lawrence county high of Moulton is invading Malone Park against Albany high. Morgan County high with a reputation for hard fighting and hard hitting will invade Riverside Park against Decatur high. The games are scheduled for 3:30 o'clock.

Albany and Decatur teams, portions of the former, went through practice during the wet Monday afternoon and despite the fact that uniforms were sodden, linesmen showed considerable drive in preparation for their games.

Hartselle comes here with a record which could stand improvement. The Hartselle lads lost Friday to Leighton in a hard fought game, but they will attempt to make things even for the season in handling Decatur—all possible.

trouble. Coach Kirby will have his greatest offensive threat for the first time this season, Pete West will be back in the lineup and will be hard to haul down, once he starts boring the light Morgan county high line. The game is scheduled for 3:30 o'clock.

In Albany it is probable that a revamped lineup will face the Lawrence county lads. Albany high coaches are not fooled in the least regarding Moulton strength and viewed the win of the Moultonites over the touted Athens Aggies with misgivings. Moulton has always sustained a reputation for not giving up the battle until the whistle announces the end of hostilities.

Moulton has a good team of men who have seen service and those who are green in pigskin lore, but the combination is difficult to halt. Albany high will have its hands full in stopping the rushes of the backfields into the line and Albany backs will be kept busy through the afternoon grounding enemy passes which are decared to float out from the Moulton backfield at unexpected moments.

Albany high is going to try for the first win of the season, having lost to the Saints in the first fight and then played a scoreless tie with the Huntsville high cohorts. Albany high should have won a victory over the lads from the Madison county capital, but they didn't push the oval across that last stripe and that costs a victory at all hazards, no matter how many first downs are made.

Coach Alford has a backfield in pretty fair shape for the coming fight, placing Henry Papenburg, Bishop, Perie and probably Thombs as the starters. Stinson apparently has been lost to the squad and his loss is going to be hard to take care of in the rush to train other backfield material. Pride can be summoned in the push, but Pride likes to take his in the line, finding much satisfaction in being able

Brandon Gives Trio of Paroles

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Oct. 12.—(AP)—Fletcher McGehee, convicted in Crenshaw county, March 13, 1909, of murder in the first degree, and sentenced to imprisonment for life, was granted a parole by Gov. W. W. Brandon, Wednesday. The Governor also granted paroles to:

Eugene Norman, convicted in Colbert county, Oct. 31, 1925, of grand larceny and sentenced to from two to three years in prison. Eugene Murphy, alias, Gene, convicted in Pike county, Nov. 24, 1925, of violating the prohibition law, and sentenced to imprisonment for from a year and a month, to a year and three months.

C. Kukendall, who was convicted in Marshall county, July 23, 1921, of manslaughter in the first degree and sentenced to three years in prison, and who was paroled about four years ago, was granted a full pardon with restoration of all civil and political rights.

Law Enforcers Active In Sept.

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Oct. 12.—(AP)—Agents of the state law enforcement department destroyed 170 stills, arrested 128 persons and made a net profit of $3,479.80 for the state during September, according to the report submitted to Governor Brandon Tuesday by Walter K. McAdory, chief law enforcement officer. In addition to the stills destroyed the officers confiscated 1,491 gallons of liquor, 121,050 gallons of mash, 859 bottles of home brew and 215 gallons of wine. Total cash fines collected during the month amounted to $10,950 while total expenses were $7,470.20.

Nine automobiles and a horse and wagon, used in transporting liquor, were confiscated and held for condemnation. Of the total number of cases started during the month, convictions were obtained in 104 and only three persons were acquitted.

Alabama Asphalt To Pave Drives

MONTGOMERY, Oct. 12.—(AP)—Driveways in the grounds of the state capital of Alabama will be paved at an early date with Alabama rock asphalt.

Offer of the Cherokee Rock Asphalt Company of Cherokee, Ala., to furnish free of charge, all rock asphalt material required for the pavement of the driveways in the capital grounds, has been standing sometime.

A number of bids have been received for laying the pavement according to information given out at the state highway department. The bids will be considered at the next meeting of the commission to be held October 19.

FALKVILLE HAS STRONG ELEVEN

Comparative Score Indicates Hope Of A Record

Defeating the strong Fairview Vocational school by a count of 29-0, Falkville Hi school football stock rose perceptibly in North Alabama grid circles. Fairview was able to count but a single first down in the four periods of play.

Comparative figures on the Morgan and Cullman county elevens indicate that Falkville is a strong contender for runner-up honors at this stage of the season. Falkville got a bad start with their defeat by Arab 6-0. The Fairview team tied Morgan County Hi at Hartselle and then lost to the Cullman Bear Cats by a 12-0 score. The sweeping victory of the Falkville eleven is providing much pleasure for the football followers of that little city, and much discontent to other cities boasting elevens.

Coach Garrison, Falkville mentor, today asked that teams wishing games would communicate with him. Falkville still has a pair of open dates.

Clinic Will Be Held At Troy, 15

MONTGOMERY, Oct. 12.—(AP)—The clinic for the examination and diagnosis of disabilities of crippled children and adults of the district comprising the counties of Crenshaw, Col. and Pike will be held in Troy October 15. This is a fourth of a series of 15 free clinics being conducted by the Alabama Society for crippled children for the benefit of the cripples of the state.

Dr. W. H. Abernathy, Pike county, health officer, is chairman of the district. Local committees in each school community of the district are working to make this one of the best clinics in the state, it was announced. Emory Polmar, one of the vice-presidents of the society is co-operating with Dr. Abernathy in the organization of his field work.

Rev. W. I. Murry Is Named Moderator

ATMORE, Ala., Oct. 12.—(AP)—The 40th annual session of the Pensacola Bay Baptist association met with the Walnut Hill Baptist church, of Atmore, on Tuesday and Wednesday. Rev. W. M. Murray, pastor of the East Hill Baptist church of Pensacola, was elected moderator. Robert Davis was elected clerk.

Dr. C. M. Brittain, acting secretary of the Florida State Mission board with headquarters at Jacksonville made an interesting address of the recent disaster in southern Florida touched by the hurricane. Dr. Brittain said that the newspaper accounts of the disaster were in no sense exaggerated. He said that the Red Cross had a stupendous task in helping the thousands who have lost all.

Crimson Preparing For Battle Of Atlanta To Be Fought Saturday

UNIVERSITY, Ala., Oct. 12.—With Georgia Tech next on their schedule, the Crimson Tide of Alabama, started four days of work here that is expected to put them ready for their strenuous battle of Saturday against the Yellow Jackets.

Regardless of past scores and games, already played this season, as well as the fact that numerous critics that have seen the two teams in action, give Georgia Tech the edge, Alabama has a fear of Georgia Tech this year that equals the respect she has had for Tech in previous years.

Since Wallace Wade has been at Alabama, the Atlantans have failed to score on Alabama and have twice been defeated. Perhaps that will happen again this year, but the Crimson eleven realizes full well that beating Tech on Grant Field demands serious attention at all times.

Alabama will have as many veterans in the game as Tech will and should balance off in various respects as well as Tech with one exception—that is in backfield weight she has versatility, lackweight she has versatility and speed and those two factors make the Crimson backfield one of the most dangerous in Dixie.

Alabama's student body and the Million-Dollar band are going to be well represented when the team leaves the Capstone and another added attraction this year will be the appearance in Atlanta at the same time of the Alabama Glee club.

Since Wallace Wade took charge of the Crimson Tide, Georgia Tech has been held to a scoreless tie once and beaten twice. In 1923 came the scoreless tie. In 1924, Hubert, Brown, Gillis and Rosenfeld starred in a 14-0 victory for Alabama. Last season, this same Johnny Mack Brown returned a punt 55 yards to defeat them 7-0.

Up to that point of the scoreless tie, Georgia Tech was far superior to the Crimson. Only twice before had Alabama won. Seven times she had been defeated. One game had resulted in a tie. But from the first game in 1902 thru last year, Alabama has won four, tied two and lost seven to the Tech footballers.

The results of previous games follow:

1902—Ala. 26; Ga. Tech 0.
1905—Ala. 5; Tech 12.
1908—Ala. 6; Tech 11.
